To Whom it May Concern

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express interest in the current open position with your company. I am a senior Web Design & Development major with an expected graduation date of May, 2024. This has given me a strong background in HTML, CSS, design, and project management. Because of this, I believe I would be an excellent addition to your team.

With a current GPA of 3.8, I know I am dedicated to learning new skills and am willing to continue learning with your company. I also have taken multiple writing courses and have experience with UX/UI design.

Although I am a soon to be new graduate, I believe that my versatile skillset, positive attitude, and willingness to learn overall encompasses the core values you all have established as a part of your brand.

I have attached my resume and have included my email and phone number. Please feel free to reach out regarding any questions or concerns you may have. I will follow up in within the next couple weeks to see if we could set up a time to meet. I hope to hear from you soon.

Best Regards,
